Lim Siew Lian - Proactive Patient Care in the ED

Siew Lian, an exceptional and dedicated member of our Emergency Department staff, has demonstrated unwavering commitment to our organization over her 12 years of service. Her proactive approach and initiative are readily apparent in her continuous efforts to enhance patient care and elevate nursing standards within the ED.

One notable achievement is her introduction of a wound workflow designed to safeguard patients with pressure injuries during their ED stay. Furthermore, during the challenging times of the pandemic, Siew Lian's deep concern for her team's safety prompted her to personally source and acquire a non-touch pedal for hand-rub, a move that not only ensured more efficient workflows but also mitigated the risk of cross-contamination. These actions exemplify her strong dedication to patient well-being and the welfare of her colleagues, leaving a profound and lasting impact on our department.
